Russian Charges U. S. Group Asks War, Hits Marshall Plan

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP) — Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, charged "war-mongers" today at John Foster Dulles and eight other leading Americans as "turned down flatly the new Marshall plan for remodeling the United Nations."

The war-monger charge was thrown directly at Dulles.

Dulles was sitting with the U.S. delegation at the U.N. assembly hall as the Russian chief delegate vigorously played nations and personalities in the basic Soviet policy statement to this session of the assembly.

Dulles began making quick notes

COURT DECLARES MISTRIAL AGAIN IN BALLES CASE

Jurors Fail to Reach Verdict After 10½ Hours; $5000 Bail Is Renewed

WEST CHESTER, Sept. 19 (Friday)—An all-male jury, deliberating a rape charge against George W. Balles Jr., Wrightstown, N. J., failed to reach an agreement, and at 12:15 o'clock this morning Judge Ernest Harvey declared a mistrial and discharged the jury.

Balles, former headmaster of a private school at Three Tuns, Montgomery county, was ordered held for next term of Criminal court here in December. Bail of $5000 was renewed.

Borough Takes Over Water Utility As Stock Transfer Is Completed

Victorious End of 12-Year Struggle

After 12 years of litigation, the borough yesterday acquired the property and assets of the Pottstown Gas and Water company. Burgess William A. Griffith completes the transfer by giving a $1,345,000 check to Dr. J. Elmer Porter, president of the Security Trust company which is escrow agent for the company's stockholders. John K. Klink, chairman of the stockholders' committee, looks on as the check is accepted.

$1,345,000 Deal Goes Off Smoothly; $162,929 Left for Operating Capital

The Pottstown Gas and Water company yesterday became the Pottstown Water department.

At a meeting in the Security Trust company at 11 o'clock, Burgess William A. Griffith presented a check for $1,345,000 to Dr. J. Elmer Porter, president of the trust company, which is escrow agent for the water company stockholders. In return, he received all of the outstanding shares of stock of the company, and its two subsidiaries.

Alien Lands Hold Key To U. S., Red Conflict

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP) — Andrei Y. Vishinsky seems to have made one thing clear above all others in his speech to the United Nations assembly today:

The political conflict between the United States and Russia cannot be settled or at this stage even promoted in the United Nations. It will have to be worked out, not in words but in political and economic actions, in the places where the blue chips are down—the Middle East, Europe, perhaps China.

Many delegations from the world's small and medium nations came to the United Nations assembly a few days ago saying that the great Russian-American dispute must be settled at all costs. They were hopeful of working along that line at this session.

Tonight the best many of them could say about the situation is that Vishinsky made clear Russia does not want war. But that is not essentially a new point, which, for example, might change the present line of American foreign policy. Officials of the great powers have believed for months now that Russia does not want war.

The problem basically is not war, but peace. How to restore peace to a world which is still largely wrecked from the last war. And the problem of peace is how to find and develop grounds for common interests between the United States and Russia.

JOHNSON GETS 8 TO 20 YEARS

Drinking Is Blamed For Monocacy Slaying; Hard Labor Ordered

READING, Sept. 18 — Clellid L. Johnson, 23-year-old veteran accused of the murder and robbery of a fellow railroad worker, was sentenced to spend from eight to 20 years in the Eastern Penitentiary by Judge Warren H. Hess in Berks county court today.

He had been convicted of murder in the second degree by a jury of six men and six women. His victim was Frank "Doc" Weaver, 40, whom he struck after a night of drinking in Birdsboro June 13, dragged into a clump of bushes near the Monocacy railroad crossing, and strangled with a plastic belt.

The ex-Marine maintained the stoic calm that characterized his deportment since the trial started, and promised the judge, "I'll do my best to do right," as he asked for a light sentence.

"Drinking largely is your downfall; I don't believe you would have done it if you hadn't been drinking," Judge Hess told the youth, as he sentenced him to "separate and solitary confinement and hard labor."

He suggested that Johnson try to improve himself in the near future and make it possible for the pardon board to authorize his release before his minimum sentence expired.

"Your mother stuck by you; you owe it to her," he told Johnson. The judge promised that he would not attempt to block action by the pardon board if the veteran establishes a creditable record.

Johnson would be eligible for parole at the expiration of the minimum eight-year term. If his record is satisfactory, however, he may seek commutation before the least possible sentence expires.

Although the convicted man's mother wept when the jury was polled, she sat with her eyes half-closed when Judge Hess pronounced sentence.

The trial was unusually brief, having started Monday, and there (Continued on Page Nine)

Food Prices Soar To Highest Level In Nation's History

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP) — Wholesale prices on foods and farm products have shot to the highest level in history, the bureau of labor statistics said today.

It made its report for the week ended the past Saturday while in another food development the justice department sent its No. 1 anti-trust man to Chicago to direct a grand jury probe of the meat industry.

It was learned that the investigation will involve corporations and others engaged in the production, processing, storage, distribution, purchase and sale of meat and meat by-products and their ingredients.

Also, there was new talk by lawmakers of possible government controls to fight the cost of living.

The bureau of labor statistics said that sharp increases in food and farm products largely caused a 1.6 percent increase the past week in its wholesale index of 900 commodities.

It said the index of average prices is 157.4 percent of the 1926 level, which is considered as a normal 100. The general wholesale level was 5.9 percent below the record set in May, 1920, but was 81.3 percent above the corresponding week of 1937.

The bureau offered these other comparisons:

Farm products — 187.3 percent of the 1926 level, up 33 percent from a month ago and 23.4 higher than a year ago.

Foods — 180.9 percent of the 1926 level, a gain of 5 percent in the past four weeks and 41.2 higher than a year ago.

The food situation also included some gloom comment from officials concerned with aiding Europe. They said the reduction ordered for November grain exports will make it more difficult to help the western European countries back on their feet.

Hurricane Heads for Louisiana; Coastal Cities Are Put on Alert

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 18 (AP) — A raging tropical hurricane churned slowly across the Gulf of Mexico tonight and the weather bureau said it probably would hit the southeast Louisiana coast tomorrow morning.

As the gigantic storm hovered about 180 miles south of Valparaiso, Fla., and 200 miles away from the Louisiana shore at 10:15 p.m. (Pottstown time) panicky refugees either fled from coastal danger spots or boarded up in sheltered homes or buildings.

The storm, which swept across lower Florida yesterday killing at least four persons and causing millions of dollars in damage, still contained winds of 80 to 100 miles an hour within 50 miles of its center. Hurricane warnings flew on the Gulf coast from Morgan City, La., eastward to Cedar Key, Fla.

Along the Mississippi and east Louisiana coasts, boats put in to snugg harbor, aircraft were stored or flown out of the area, schools were ordered closed, and general alarm spread. Some 60 ships tied up or anchored in the Mississippi river at New Orleans, one of the world's busiest ports.

Weather forecaster W. R. Stevens reported "definite danger" of 75 mile hurricane winds in New Orleans, and pounding up to 100-mph was expected where the main blow strikes.

The storm gashed a wide belt of destruction yesterday from Miami, Fla. to Fort Myers on the west, and while casualties were low the damage soared to many millions of dollars.

The storm veered uncertainly after moving into the gulf, first threatening northwest Florida and then coastal areas further west. Tonight hurricane warnings flew along a 500-mile stretch of gulf coast.

At Mobile City buses evacuated 3500 persons from a wartime housing project on Blakely island, and a sailing ship, the Charles Baumhauer, said bank-head vehicular tunnel under the Mobile river would be closed if waters inundated the approaches.

A two-masted schooner, Valkyrie, her decks awash, was reported breaking up in choppy seas off Timbalier Island. Two crewmen, however, were sighted from the air on Isle Derniere, 15 miles further west, and signalled they were safe.

A low-flying coast plane from Biloxi patrolled coastal waters between Mobile and the Mississippi passes, warning fishing craft.

At Pascagoula, Miss., the Ingalls shipyard took precautions against damage of several vessels which are under construction.

Second Case of Polio Reported in Mt. Penn

READING, Sept. 18 (AP) — Berks county's second case of polio was reported tonight from Mt. Penn borough by Peter J. Salino, health officer.

The victim is 11-year-old Mary Elizabeth Morris, pupil in the seventh grade at St. Catherine's parochial school. Salino ordered the school closed for fumigation, and placed all the pupils of the school under a ten day observation quarantine.

The first case of polio in Berks also came from Mt. Penn, but originated in the Mt. Penn public school.

Illness Fatal to Roy Binder, Civic and Business Leader

Roy Binder, 59, prominent in business, civic and fraternal circles of this community for many years, died yesterday afternoon at 2:05 o'clock at his residence in the Auchenbach apartments, High and York streets, following an illness of more than a year with a complication of ailments.

Born in Pottstown he was a son of Mrs. R. Rebecca (Swenck) Binder, of Maple Farm Home, Akron, and the late Mahlon M. Binder.

He was educated in the Pottstown borough public schools and in 1905 became an employee of the Bell Telephone company. He was a line chief for the company, his territory including Philadelphia, Coatesville and Norristown.

In 1920 he returned to Pottstown and engaged in the real estate and insurance business.

He was president of the Mt. Zion Cemetery company; a director of the Pottstown Savings and Loan association and of the National Iron Bank of Pottstown. He was a member of Emmanuel Lutheran church, Blue Lodge No. 564, Free and Accepted Masons, Coatesville; Nativity Commandery, No. 71, Pottstown; Rajah Shrine, Reading; Pottstown Lodge, Order of Elks, of which he was a past exalted ruler; Pottstown Lodge, Order of Moose; Pottstown Aerie, No. 626, Fraternal Order of Eagles; Chamber of Commerce, and the Brookside Country club. He was a Republican in politics but never aspired to public office.

Besides his mother, he is survived by his wife, S. Mabel (Moyer) Binder; two sons, Carl M., 234 Prospect street, and Harold E., Auchenbach apartments; a granddaughter, Carol Binder, 234 Prospect street. A daughter, Florence V., died in 1915.

Three brothers survive: F. Brooke, 307 High street, Harry M., of Omaha, Neb., and W. E. E. of Rapid City, S.D. A brother, Paul Binder, was killed in action on Guam island in World War II.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in Emmanuel Lutheran church. Interment will be made in Mt. Zion cemetery.

Playground Program Drew 1598 Children, Commission Is Told

At a special meeting of the Recreation commission, held in the Elks home yesterday noon, it was disclosed that 1598 boys and girls, and 211 men playing in the City Industrial Baseball league, had used commission-sponsored grounds and equipment during the past Summer.

A breakdown of the figures shows that 1102 boys and girls were registered on the playgrounds. In addition, 105 boys under 12 years of age, participated in the Midway Softball league; 121 boys under 16 took part in the Junior Baseball league, and 270 boys and girls were registered at Bethany center.

The playground registrations were: Jefferson, 65 boys; 65 boys; Lincoln, 72 boys; 63 boys; Rupert, 110 girls; 73 boys; Tot Lot, 73 girls; 42 boys; St. Clair, 104 girls; 65 boys; Manatoway, 100 girls; 160 boys; baseball school, 110 boys.

The average daily attendance for the Summer was: Lincoln, 91; St. Clair, 107; Tot Lot, 52; Manatoway, 206; Jefferson, 74; Rupert, 81; and Bethany Center, 67, for a total of 680.

The commission expressed with thanks a donation of $5 from the students of the Transfiguration Lutheran church Sunday school, who contributed the money in appreciation of the amplification system set up by the commission at a Sunday school picnic during the Summer.

Residential Area Beauticians Must Get Zone Permits

Operators of beauty shops established in residential areas of the borough since the adoption of the borough's zoning ordinance on Aug. 30, 1943, will be required to make applications to the zoning board of adjustment for variances. Building Inspector Arthur S. Kepner, said last night.

Kepner stated that he estimates more than 15 beauticians will be affected. The building inspector said that he communicated yesterday with some of the affected beauty parlor proprietors and he learned they were under the impression they were under the impression they could open a parlor in the residential sections without a variance because they had obtained State licenses.

He stated they must receive applications at borough hall for hearings by the board of adjustment. This necessitates the posting of $15 in cash. It is believed hearings will be held about the middle of October.

Kepner said that the only professional workers permitted to open offices in residential zones without variances being granted are physicians.

Suspension Unknown To Borough Commission

Herbert S. Myers, chairman of the Pottstown Civil Service commission, yesterday declared that the suspension of Patrolman Michael Shanta from the Police department had been ordered by Burgess William A. Griffith without the knowledge of the commission.

Myers said that the commission granted Shanta a public hearing set for next Monday night, after it had learned of the Burgess' action. He added that the commission did not learn of the suspension order until two days after it had been issued.

Circus Wardrobe Keeper Is Crushed by Elephant

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 18 (AP) — Mrs. Gertrude Burton, 64, of Clinton, wardrobe mistress for the Dailey brothers circus, was crushed to death today when an elephant stepped on her at the circus grounds after another elephant had knocked her over accidentally.

Witnesses said Mrs. Burton was walking between the two animals when one of them turned suddenly. The elephant's trunk struck her and she was knocked down. The foot of the other elephant came down on her chest, crushing it.

French Await Red Reply To Request for Wheat

PARIS, Sept. 18 (AP)—France has asked Russia for wheat to help her through the winter but has had no reply, a foreign ministry press officer said tonight.

He said the request was made several weeks ago because France feared the United States would be unable to send her enough cereals.

Senator Flanders Reports Congress May Restore Wage and Price Control

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—A warning of restored wage and price controls if inflation continues was sounded by Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) today at the economic conference of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Flanders japed several hundred businessmen and economists by denouncing what he called the "apocryphal" of John L. Lewis, of the steel and coal industries, which was followed by price boosts in steel, autos and other goods.

The Republican legislator and manufacturer said that if other wage settlements follow such a course, Congress will be forced to "reintroduce governmental controls of wages, prices and profits."

Leveling criticism particularly at the United States Steel corporation and the northern mine operators, Flanders declared the industry "might have fought vigorously for less extreme terms from the United Mine Workers' chief."

Better yet, he said, the problem "might have been brought before the bar of public opinion."

"Runaway prices will not only hasten the coming of a depression but also greatly increase its severity," he asserted.

While avowing a hesitancy to criticize U. S. Steel's pricing policy, the Senator said the corporation's profits in the first half of 1947 were "neatly triple" those of a year earlier while the costs per ton for material, labor and services declined.

"At the same time, a policy of high depreciation was instituted, supposedly to reflect the present high replacement costs," he said. "Yet in July of this year, the price of steel was raised on the average $5 a ton."

The Vermont, who heads one of the three Congressional subcommittees investigating price problems over the country, called for "Statesmanlike" moderation by industry and labor in wage cases, and for a "restrained pricing policy" by business leaders.

Economist J. Kenneth Galbraith, one-time deputy OPA administrator and now an editor of Fortune magazine, said price rises of the past twelve months reflect "serious disorders" in the economy and a darkening of prospects for American capitalism.

The inflationary movement has demonstrated that free enterprise is not an "automatic, self-adjusting system," Galbraith argued, but one which demands "patient restraint and support" from the government.

Corporations "are investing in the future of the economy when they follow public counsel on their pricing," Galbraith said, but he ruled out the necessity for detailed, elaborate controls on consumers and sellers like those of the war period.

Marshall Supported On Veto Proposition

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The executive committee of the United Nations association of Great Britain and Ireland tonight endorsed Secretary of State George C. Marshall's proposal for a limitation on the U. N. Security Council veto.

The non-political organization including in its membership Winston Churchill and Prime Minister Attlee, resolved to send a deputation to the British foreign office to urge His Majesty's government to give the fullest support to Mr. Marshall's proposals for the limiting of the veto power.

A foreign office spokesman said the "sharpest" study of the Marshall proposal was in progress but that official British views would be announced by Hector McNeill, head of the British U. N. delegation.

Food Rationing Forgotten At Sauerkraut Fete

POTTSTOWN, Ill. Sept. 18 (AP)—There was no voluntary food rationing in this village today. Thousands jammed around 11 huge kettles of steaming kraut in Pottstown's 28th sauerkraut festival, revived for the first time since the war.

The throng of visitors was estimated at 40,000 by Milton Deuth of the American Legion post, sponsor of this year's event, which was hailed as the world's largest free meal.

India and Pakistan Attempt to Protect Moslems in Delhi

NEW DELHI, Sept. 18 (AP)—The government of India and the acting high commissioner for Pakistan in New Delhi joined today in efforts to halt the flow of Moslems from India's capital into refugee camps to await evacuation to Pakistan.

Both announced that steps were being taken to provide "adequate protection" for the Moslems, a minority in the two cities of Delhi and New Delhi.

Earlier today, Mohandas K. Gandhi, spiritual leader of the Congress party which now rules the dominion of India, declared at a public meeting that unless both the Pakistan and Indian governments acknowledged their guilt for the communal fighting of Moslems against Sikhs and Hindus, war between the two dominions, appeared inevitable.

He said both governments were equally guilty in failing to prevent the communal atrocities and must confess their guilt before peace could be insured.

A military spokesman told a news conference at government house, residence of Governor-General Lord Louis Mountbatten, that the government wanted to keep the Moslems in their homes and "does not want to compel anyone to leave the city."

The Moslem refugee camps "just grew" after city-wide rioting which began Sept. 7 and now are jammed to capacity. Despite efforts of the health ministry, conditions in the camps are regarded as "deplorable" and likely to produce epidemics of disease.

German Doctors Favor New Sterilization Laws

HAMBURG, Germany, Sept. 18 (AP)—Re-introduction of Nazi sterilization laws in Germany is being sought by a group of German doctors.

The sponsors of the plan, Prof. Heinrich Schulte, of the Bremen nervous diseases clinic, and Dr. Heinrich Fette, director of Hamburg's neurosis clinic, said today a committee of experts had been appointed by the doctors to study the question.

Dr. Schulte said there was at present some disagreement as to the scope of the measures but emphasized that they were not to be confused with the gas-chamber extermination laws of the Nazis.

He said the laws existing during the Nazi regime, providing for the sterilization of the insane and sufferers from hereditary diseases, was being examined with a view to a draft ordinance being presented to the zonal advisory council of the British and American zones.

Five Slovak Soldiers Charged With Treason

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 18 (AP)—Five Slovak soldiers have been arrested and charged with treason in a plot against the country, the Slovak state defense ministry said tonight. A report from the interior ministry said a total of 142 persons had been jailed to date for alleged complicity in the plot.

Unofficial reports said the actual number jailed was more than 600 as the Slovak government moved to smash the conspiracy which allegedly included an attempt on the life of President Eduard Benes.

Three Persons Hurt In Traffic Crashes Near Pottstown

Two men were hospitalized and a third given emergency treatment as a result of two accidents early yesterday morning.

Blinded by the lights of an approaching car, Kenneth Jackson, Green Lane, crashed into a telephone pole on Route 29 in Upper Salford township, two miles south of Green Lane early yesterday morning.

He was taken to the Granview hospital, Sellersville, where he was treated for a broken kneecap.

State police of the Collegeville station reported that the accident occurred at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning as Jackson was driving north on Route 29.

They estimated that $400 damage was done to the front end of his car.

At 6 a. m. yesterday an east-bound vehicle on Route 422 smashed into the rear of a car parked on the highway.

Harry S. Jackson, an 18-year-old sailor from Reading, was taken to the Pottstown hospital in an ambulance of the Good Will Fire company with Charles Perriello, 26, Philadelphia, whose car had stalled on the road because of a dead battery.

Jackson was treated in the dispensary for a laceration of the chin and possible injuries of the right shoulder and chest, and transferred to the Naval hospital in Philadelphia.

Perriello was reported in fair condition last night, suffering from a fractured pelvis, injured left ribs and generalized multiple abrasions. He was suffering moderately from shock when he was brought to the hospital.

State police of the West Reading barracks estimated the damage at approximately $200 to each automobile.

The accident occurred three miles west of Pottstown, near the Liberty Bell restaurant.

Write-In Candidates Must Pay County Fee

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, Sept. 18.—Approximately 30 persons throughout Montgomery county, whose names were written in on either the Republican or Democratic ballots and who received nominations for either auditor or justice of the peace in first class townships and boroughs learned today that if they desire to remain as candidates they must pay the regular $2 filing fee to the county election bureau.

Notices that the fees are payable have been sent out to these "write in" candidates. Deadline for the payments is Oct. 1, warned Chief Clerk Calvin Rigg and if the payments are not forthcoming the names will not be on the ballots for the general election in November.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of the trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. The help most people need about 3 parts a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, loss of sleep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or nearly constant urination with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 80 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubules flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Labrador Ore Lease Would Remake Map
By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 — Senator
Ralph E. Flanders, the Vermont tool-maker and foundryman, put his Yankee finger on the hidden fear of the nation's steel moguls when he proposed that England supplement our dwindling iron resources by land-leasing its newly discovered subsidiaries in Labrador.
His casual remarks before the Economic History Association at Yale University hint at a possible industrial revolution such as this country has never experienced.
It would remake the manufacturing, transportation and cultural map of the United States. It would force the migration of millions of workers. Like the atom bomb when it is commercially developed, it would precipitate a violent, economic earthquake.

TRIPLER — You've heard of the hunter who bagged two birds in one shot.
Mrs. Walter Miller, of 103 South Walnut street, Boyertown, claims to have done him one better. She and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Linwood Miller, of East Philadelphia avenue, were doing the Monday wash in the basement of the Miller home
the other day when a mouse scampered out of a pile of dirty clothes. The women, in true feminine fashion, screamed and headed for the nearest exit. Then, mustered up courage and equipped with a trap and a hunk of cheese, the women returned to the cellar to set the bait. The next day Mrs. Miller reported her triumph to neighbors. She had trapped not only one mouse, but two of its fellow creatures!

A Duty Well Done
POTTSTOWN'S expanding hospital facilities point up this community's responsibility in the industrial, rich Montgomery-Chester-Berks district where it centers.
There was a time when Pottstown was an isolated community unto itself. Its life centered on broad, muddy High street, where horse and buggy races thrilled bystanders who watched serenely from shady vantage points under the main street's awnings.
Probably because vehicular traffic was confined to the slow gait of a horse over unpaved streets, Pottstown lived just by itself.
Its responsibilities were to only the 10,000 persons who lived in the narrow confines of the borough.

High Street Parking Dangerous
To the Editor: One of the greatest dangers existing in Pottstown today is the way vehicles back out of parking spaces on High street. Every day there are lots of narrow escapes and screeching of brakes as near accidents are avoided.
The other day I saw a big truck blow right into a car that was backing out of a space near Hanover street. You couldn't blame the truck driver because the truck was near the car when it started to back out. And you couldn't blame the driver of the car because he did not have clear vision.
This is a problem that has been vexing
Pottstown motorists for years, but of late the danger seems to have increased very much. Something should be done about it before someone is killed.

SHIFT: The Senator, who heads a legislative committee now investigating living costs in the East, envisages a shift of the center of industrial gravity now based on Pittsburgh steel, Pennsylvania and West Virginia coal and Minnesota ore to
New England or Maryland on the Atlantic Coast or to Mobile and other places on the Gulf Coast.
Such a transfer, naturally, would mean that industries dependent upon steel for their products—in Detroit, for instance—also would have to pull up stakes and emigrate to the coast along with the parent unit. Hauling the main product to the Middle West would be too costly.
Behind Senator Flanders' statement lies a situation which has been giving secret concern to the steel makers and owners who have tremendous investments in the mills, mines, lake shipping and railroads which haul ore and coal to such centers as Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Gary, Cleveland, etc., and then carry the finished product to the industrial heart of America
—Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York,
New England, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan,
Illinois etc.

son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Ecker, of Pottstown Landing, in a letter to his parents, describes a visit to Cuernavaca, Mexico. The young man is located in Mexico City.

NOVICE — If you think you're too old to fly, consider Mrs. Alice Long, of Limerick and Yeaton, who at 51, took her first airplane ride Wednesday evening. "It was grand," she said after the Piper Super-Cruiser, piloted by her great nephew, John Kugler Jr., landed at the Pottstown Airport. She was particularly impressed with the beauty of the Pottstown area from the air and, she added proudly, "John is a wonderful pilot."

The Worry Clinic
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
LON F., aged 36, is foreman in a large factory.
"Dr. Crane, I can't get Lon interested in our home, though," his wife protested, unhappily.
"I ask him to help me set out shrubs," he says it is a waste of time and money, for we may be moving next year. He doesn't even like to have me order materials for our garden.
"But I am very fond of flowers and gardening. Why can't I get my husband interested in the same things?"
Lon is like millions of other renters.
He lacks the pride of ownership. Hence,
he resents spending money for shrubs and fertilizer, because he keeps thinking
he is beautifying somebody else's land.
In this modern age of tenant farmers and city renters who live in large apartment buildings, we are witnessing a psychological breakdown in the stability of the home. Renters usually have less pride in their homes.
Entirely apart from the economic angles involved in the question, there are several very important psychological reasons in support of home ownership. In fact, home ownership helps prevent divorce.
Furthermore, as soon as a man buys property, he also assumes much more critical voter. Taxes, local improvements, zoning problems, schools and churches, as well as taverns and cheap dance halls, suddenly take on a new significance.
Every American family should have an opportunity to own a home. Alien doctrines or communistic practices can rarely get a foothold in a nation made up of property holders.
People who stay close to the soil and live for a generation in the same dwelling, are more likely to be stable citizens. They also are more inclined to develop a neighborly spirit.
In our large cities today, people may live next door to each other in the same apartment building for years without even knowing one another's name. A city apartment is full of different families who rarely do a neighborly act. They don't even speak on the street, simply because they have nothing in common and aren't even acquainted.
Renters also tend to inculcate in their children an irresponsible atmosphere.
"Here today and gone next year," is their motto. They are inclined to be drifters, instead of being anchored.
Their children are often jerked out of one school, entered into a second, and may even find themselves in a third before they have learned to read or add and subtract. Even the friendships of our children are becoming transitory nowadays. Consider Freddy's tragedy in tomorrow's case record for further information on this point.
One important reason why strikes occur, is because the president of the firm is now so many cents removed from his workers that neither is personally acquainted with the other. And you are all aware that strangers can more easily become hostile than friends or near-neighbors.
For it is more difficult to be unfair or un-Christian to somebody you know.
But we can be thoughtless and selfish
when we are dealing with distant persons who are simply numbers on a Social Security card. Neighborhoods thus prevents much social discord.
Last week I had a conference with a woman whose husband decided they ought to get a divorce. But she found it almost as difficult to leave the house which they had planned and built, as to leave her husband!
On the contrary, a feeling of irresponsibility tends to develop in people who aren't anchored by home ownership. They are more easily swayed by isms, and stampeded by glib politicians. Communists aren't home owners!

ORE: This scantily publicized problem explains, in great part, why the steel industry resists current demands that it expand its facilities by 10 percent at a cost estimated at half a billion dollars.
If there is the slightest chance that it must move, lock, stock and barrel, from its present location within the next generation, it would be ruinously unwise to sink that amount in today's plant.
The question has been discussed at meetings of the nation's mining engineers, metallurgists, manufacturers and "Pittsburgh-plussers." Every great corporation has been searching for new sources of ore from Labrador to Chile. In the face of warnings that domestic supplies will soon reach the point of exhaustion.
The prospective shortage has its foreign aspects. It raises doubt whether the U. S. can play a heavy role in longtime rebuilding of Europe. It lies behind the Anglo-American insistence that production in the German Ruhr be expanded, despite Russian protests.
Indeed, the problem has been discussed at the White House. With Brazil as the most likely source of ore, it explains the Administration's overtures toward Rio in recent months, including President Truman's visit there.

Supplies: The simple fact is that our store of inexpensive, open-pit and high-grade ore in the Mesabi range in Minnesota is running out. It has provided 60 percent of the food for Pittsburgh furnaces for many years and it was tapped heavily during World Wars I and II.
It may last another 20, 30 or 40 years with careful use and no great expansion. But even that period is only a short space of time for an industry so basic that it must make investments with an eye to long-range production and consumption, prospective competitors, profits and industrial changes such as Senator Flanders suggests.
The second inescapable fact is that the U. S. must look, not only toward Labrador, but toward Mexico, Venezuela, Chile, and especially Brazil, for future supplies of steel's main ingredient, iron ore. And the inland haul of this bulky material from ocean ports to Pittsburgh would be so expensive that steelmaking facilities would have to move to the coast.
The other principal ingredient, coal would be hauled to New England, Maryland, or Gulf ports from Pennsylvania and West Virginia by water and rail.
PRICES: American corporations have already taken steps to meet the problem of ore shortage—steps which may wind up in the industrial revolution mentioned above.
Bethlehem draws the ingredient from Venezuela to feed its furnaces at Sparrows Point, where it has built its largest unit. Republic is experimenting with sources in the Adirondacks. U. S. Steel is looking into Mexican and Venezuelan prospects.
Others are tapping mines in Labrador and Brazil. All are hoping that tacinite, a Mesabi product still in great supply, can be processed so that it will serve as a substitute for iron ore.
Whatever the new source may be, and especially if it must be taci-nite, the prospects are higher: prices for the material that enters into almost every basic and everyday commodity here and abroad.

Which Costs The Most?
AMONG ALL the unsound leads and plays to which some less-than-fine players are addicted, which is the most costly to them? Is it the underlead of an ace against a suit bid? Or is it the opening lead of the dummy's suit? Probably the latter.
Some players who perpetrate that bridge crime, when there are no special circumstances to make it a wise move, justify it by saying they were "leading through strength."
They recall an old maxim which seemed something like that. But their recollection missed the main point.
The full maxim was "lead through strength and up to weakness." It applied only when you were in the seat at the right of the dummy and could see that you were leading up to weakness or to situations in which your tenace honors up to other honors
probably in your partner's hand.

SUCCESSOR — Pottstown amateur radio
"hams" were on the alert Wednesday night to lend assistance in relaying messages from the hurricane-battered section of Florida. One of the "hams," Earl L.
Kulp, 16 Beech street, at the same time was attempting to get a personal message to a brother, Maj. Carl Raymond Kulp, at Amarillo, Texas. Earl was concerned about his brother's safety as the tropical storm blasted out over the Gulf of Mexico toward Texas. He hoped to make contact with his brother through an amateur radio man in the Lone Star state. Major Kulp was released from a Denver, Col., hospital Tuesday after contracting tuberculosis in Japan.

Today all has changed.
Pottstown's expanding industries not only are manned by the expanding population of this thriving borough. Thousands of workers speed into the local plants every day on wheels of "rubber" behind the throbbing strength of thousands of automobiles' myriad horsepower.
These workers dwell far beyond Pottstown's borders, which themselves have been bursting to the north, the east and the west.
Only the broad Schuylkill kept the expanding lines from reaching into Chester county.
From Boyertown flows a steady stream of wage earners. From Obelisk, Skippack, Eagle, Birdsboro, Mont Clare, and all the points intervening, through the men and women who keep Pottstown's smokestacks belching.
Ave, they come from more distant points:
Reading, Bryn Athyn, Womelsdorf, Fleetwood, Downingtown.
But that vast 15-mile radius that shoots from the hub of Pottstown and reaches to Hereford, Birdsboro, Eagle and Evansburg, and which encompasses 80,000 persons within it brings most of Pottstown's "trade" to this thriving center.

that you were leading up to weakness or to situations in which your
tenace honors up to other honors
probably in your partner's hand.

BOON — In the sunny days if you freckle easily, put yourself on the back.
An exhaustive series of experiments conducted by a couple of scientists reveal that if you have freckles you have not only vibrant health but also buoyant spirits far greater than your unfreckled pals. Freckles are no longer considered as imperfect pigmentation, instead they're deeper than the skin. The same scientists allege now that freckles actually spell sex appeal, that they should serve as facial decoration to attract attention.
The experts wind up with this, "Wear your freckles with pride."

MANY people write to me, wanting to know what to do about moles, scientifically known as nevi.
My answer is that it is safe to ignore a mole as long as it ignores you. That is, if a mole does not call attention to itself by becoming red, tender or sore, it may be disregarded. But if any of these things occur, a doctor should be consulted at once because there is always the possibility that moles may become malignant or cancerous.
Women are usually more concerned with moles which contain a dark pigment or coloring matter known as melanin because they are considered as more disfiguring. But uncolored moles are just as dangerous from the standpoint of becoming malignant, as is the dark variety.
Irritation of any sort may cause rapid growth of any mole. It is during this period of rapid growth that the cells in the mole tend to transform themselves into outland cancer cells with a capacity for wild multiplication. The first signs of irritation of a mole consist of tenderness and redness. "The irritation is frequently produced by the rubbing of clothing or injuries during shaving or cutting of the hair. If infection and rapid growth follow such irritation, mal-ignancy is almost certain to occur, unless the mole is completely removed.
Such treatment as the use of the electric trolley, the application of chemical substances, or the use of X-ray, is not considered adequate treatment in such cases.
The exact treatment to be employed will, of course, depend upon a number of factors, such as the size and location of the mole, but, as a general rule, cutting out the mole is the safest course to pursue.
In fact, experts in this field are convinced that treatment of a mole which is showing signs of irritation, by anything less than complete surgical removal at one operation, is dangerous.
Once a cancer has developed from the nevi, immediate operation with thorough, deep and wide removal of the affected tissues is necessary. Sometimes X-ray treatments, in addition to the operation may be advisable. The nevi may be removed by using an electric cautery, which is a metal instrument in which heat is produced by an electric current. The lymph glands in the tissues near the mole may also have to be removed in order to produce a permanent cure.

Health Board Urges Housewives Combal Disposal Problem

Assistance of Boyertown housewives in abating the garbage disposal nuisance in Boyertown was asked by the Boyertown board of health at a recent meeting at the home of the secretary, R. Vincent Clarke, 32 South Reading avenue.

Complaints have been received relative to droppings from disposal trucks, as well as to unsanitary cans. Borough council notified the board of health, which in turn notified the two collection agencies operating here. It was pointed out that citizens can alleviate the condition by withholding liquid garbage from garbage cans.

Health Officer Paul F. Hartman reported no quarantines issued during the past month. One case was released from German measles and one from whooping cough, he added.

Eight complaints were received, six investigations carried out and corrected, and two are still pending.

Mauger Is Elected Legion Commander

Harry Mauger, a World War II veteran, was named commander of Charles B. Yeger Post 471, American Legion, in an election held at the post last night. Mauger was unopposed.

In one of the only contests on the slate, Henry Zummers defeated Harold Burkert and Robert Hartman for the post of junior vice commander. Eugene Schaeffer, also a World War II veteran, was elected senior vice commander.

Daniel Zuber was re-elected finance officer and Elmer K. Beller was named chaplain. John Houck and Stanley Weider were named sergeants-at-arms, while Norman S. Gotwals, Lawrence B. Kohler and I. Ralph March were elected to the board of trustees.

Mauger, the incoming commander, will appoint an adjutant and a sergeant-major in the near future. The outgoing commander is Frank L. Del Grosso.

ACTION ON CHARTER

The application by Boyertown Post 3487 Veterans of Foreign Wars for a charter for a corporation to be known as "The Veterans Home Association of the Borough of Boyertown, Penna." will be heard in Berks county court Oct. 6.

Pottstown Woman Gets Church Music Position

Mrs. Harold B. Keim, of Pottstown, has been named director of music in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church. She had previously resigned this position and that of organist to accept another position in Pottstown.

As music director, she will have charge of the choir one night a week. Maefern Johnson has been selected to serve as supply organist at the church services.

Marion Kinder Wins At Flower Show

A flower arrangement, consisting of bird-of-paradise and anthuriums from California, won a second prize for Marion A. Kinder, 38 South Reading avenue, at a show held recently in Pennsylvania station, 30th and Market streets, Philadelphia. The event was sponsored by the PRR Garden Club.

The California cut-flowers were arranged in modernistic style—one in a low, long copper basket and the other in a porcelain bowl. They were shipped express from Los Angeles, Calif., and arrived at the Reading airport the day before the exhibit opened.

The award for second place, which consists of a bronze plaque, was based on uniqueness and beauty of arrangement. R. A. Smith, the show secretary, and thousands of spectators who thronged the two-day exhibit, praised Kinder's work.

One of the bird-of-paradise plants is now on exhibit at a business establishment at 48 South Reading avenue.

Baby Is Baptized In Church Ceremony

Mary Katherine Muzey, two-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Muzey, 59 North Reading avenue, was baptized by the Rev. B. F. Creamers, rector of St. Columbkille's Catholic church, in the church on Sunday.

Sponsors of the child were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bickel, of Philadelphia. Following the baptism, a reception was held in Boyertown inn by the grandparents of the child. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Jacques B. Kline, Emma Krieg, Mr. and Mrs. Bickel, Mr. and Mrs. Muzey, and children, Peggy and Corky, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Kline.

Grade 7 President, Sally Thompson, vice president, Richard Demming, secretary, Barbara Gift, and treasurer, Robert Grubb.

In ancient Babylon letters were written on the tile tablets and enclosed in baked clay envelopes.

Paul Shollenberger Named President of Toastmasters Club

Paul H. Shollenberger, 29 Apple street, was elected president of the Three Link Toastmasters club for the next six months at the monthly meeting held Wednesday night at 7 o'clock at Cliff's Diner.

Other officers elected were Mark Stahl, secretary, and Norman Schoenly, treasurer.

Daniel W. Mover, retiring president, had charge of the business meeting following the dinner. After the election of officers, the meeting was turned over to Shollenberger, program chairman, who acted as toastmaster. Two prepared and three impromptu speeches were given.

Warren Kuser revealed two chapters of a book by Dale Carnegie and Titus Johnson spoke on "Man's Inhumanity to Man." Impromptu speeches included "Why Men Fail," by Schoenly; "Rocks upon which Marriages Fall," by Marion Kinder, and "Faith," by Stahl.

Guests at the meeting were Lawrence M. Sands, Russell Geiger, Leonard Schollenberger, and Robert Graber, all of Boyertown, and Stanley F. Jenkins, Pottstown.

The next meeting of the club will be held Wednesday, October 15.

Income Tax Course Slated in Reading

Ralph C. Bodv, of Boyertown, president of the Berks county Bar association, announced that the first of a series of lectures on "Federal Income and Estate Taxation" will be given on Thursday, Oct. 16, at 4 p. m., under the auspices of the committee of education in the county commissioners' room in the court house in Reading.

Scheduled for every Thursday afternoon thereafter, the talks will include discussion of the Pennsylvania community property law and Pennsylvania corporation and inheritance taxation legislation. The last half hour of each session will be devoted to questions.

HOOKIES TO MARCH

Friends of Hook and Ladder company will march in the Thanksgiving day parade sponsored by the Berks county fire department in Norristown on Thurs. Nov. 27. The Pioneer band of Allentown will furnish music for the Hookies' marchers.

Leaves should be removed from the lower part of stems of cut roses to prevent their decaying in water.

Berks Legislature Says 15 Billion Outlay Might Preserve Peace for Europeans

Explaining that a prosperous world is necessary to insure peace, Congressman Frederick A. Muhlenberg, Berks county, last night told Boyertown Lions and guests that an investment of 15 billion dollars in European recovery over the next five years might spell the difference between war and peace.

A thorough backer of the Marshall plan, Representative Muhlenberg said "this is the best plan that has ever been figured out." He lashed out at former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau's plan to agrarianize Germany.

The Republican representative's remarks seemed to indicate that he believed a special session of Congress to deal with immediate European relief was in the offing. He explained the difference between the Marshall approach, which he said is designed to rehabilitate Europe, and money expended by Congress if a special session is called by President Truman, which he characterized as relief—a necessity until the long-range Marshall plan can swing into operation.

It was the "incessant dithering of Russian vetoes" in the Security council of the United Nations that finally convinced him of the necessity of action to curb this abuse, he said. Together with other members of Congress, Representative Muhlenberg was instrumental in securing passage of a resolution to strengthen the GI Bill.

The congressman said last night that he was glad to see the basic ingredients of this resolution announced as policy by Secretary of State George C. Marshall in his recent speech to the United Nations general assembly. "Russia is a nation with an inferiority complex," said Congressman Muhlenberg.

When the Marshall plan was announced, it meant that Russia had to compete with us on a production basis and this is one reason why she turned it down, he added.

Congressman Muhlenberg threw the challenge to his listeners when he explained three alternatives which face the United States in foreign policy: (1) Withdraw from Europe and let Communism sweep the continent; (2) Go to war with Russia; or (3) Promulgation of a

Explorer Post Ready For Overnight Hike

Final plans for the overnight hike to the Pinnacle, a high point in the Blue mountains near Hamburg, were made by members of the Explorer Post Number 3 of Boyertown recently. The group will leave tomorrow at 1 p. m. from Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed.

Explorer Guide Philip West named the following officers and committees for the hike: Eli Essenhart, leader, Douglass Sell, assistant leader, Philip West, and Robert Reiff, cooks; Eugene Johnson, Jack Fraul, and Herman Kumpf, first-aiders; Harold Meadow, keeper of the log; George Schwenk, camp photographer; Robert Koons, camp weatherman; and Henry Johnson, chaplain.

The group will assemble at the church tomorrow at 12:30 p. m. and distribution of food among the scouts going will take place. The patrol members plan to return home about 5 p. m. Sunday.

Wednesday night's meeting was held outdoors around a campfire at a camping spot near the Boyertown borough impounding dam at Gabelsville.

Trial of Woman Who Slew Husband Begins in Reading

READING, Sept. 18 (AP) — Mrs. Josephine De Angelo, 54, on trial charged with the voluntary manslaughter in the fatal stabbing of her husband, Nicholas, on July 1, during an argument in their home, set beside her attorney, M. Bernard Hoffman, and wept quietly as five daughters took the stand today and told of constant threats of violence by their father during their home life as children.

Samuel De Angelo, a brother of the victim, testified to repeated quarrels between the couple while they lived in Mt. Union, and of one threat made on Mrs. De Angelo's life.

Carmela De Angelo, 18, one of the daughters, who was the last Commonwealth witness, told Judge F. A. Marx and a jury of 12 married men and women, that there was an argument over the father and that she feared the father threatened to strike her mother with a heavy piece of wood.

She said that she intervened, whereupon her father started up stairs to get a gun. In her scuffle with him, she said, she noticed blood trickling down his arm. Police charge Mrs. De Angelo, in the kitchen near the stairs, stabbed him at this time.

De Angelo and the daughter started to walk to a hospital nearby. He collapsed on the way and died an hour later in the hospital from loss of blood.

Defense attorney Hoffman told the jury he would introduce testimony to show that De Angelo worked only about nine months in the past 25 years of his married life, that he repeatedly threatened his wife to obtain money for drinks and that she was compelled to seek outside employment and even had to keep boarders so that their large family could be kept together.

Pastor Who Refused Pay To Study for Degree

LANARK, Ill., Sept. 18 (AP) — The Rev. Harmon Bro, who declined his church salary recently and went to work as a railroad section hand, has resigned as pastor of the Lanark Christian church to complete residence studies for a doctor of divinity degree at the University of Chicago.

Bro recently declined to accept his $200 monthly salary from the church any longer due to what he said was poor attendance and support. He then took a job as section hand on the Milwaukee railroad.

Bro is son of Dr. Albin C. Bro, president of Frances Shimer college at Mt. Carroll, Ill.

Communists Rule Yugoslavia, Rotary Hears at Meeting

A grim picture of Yugoslavia under the rule of Tito was painted last night by Lloyd Christman, of Hamburg, who spent a year in that country working for UNRRA.

He spoke before a meeting of the Rotary club, held last night in the Elks home.

"UNRRA spent $430 million to rebuild Yugoslavia," the speaker declared, "of which America paid 72 percent. That money was used by a Communist regime, and through those funds, we have turned Yugoslavia over to the Kremlin on a silver platter. If it were not for that appropriation, Yugoslavia would not, I am sure, be ruled by Marshal Tito today."

Christman accused Tito of having set up a dictatorial, repressive Communist regime, that intimidated the people and established a reign of terror throughout the land.

He praised Mikhailovich, Chetnik leader who admitted having surrendered to the Germans.

He made the right decision when he capitulated, and acknowledged in his trial that he did collaborate with Germany," Christman pointed.

"Mikhailovich considered Tito's Partisan Movement of Liberation as the greatest menace to his country."

Christman described the present leaders of Yugoslavia as a group of "ignorant cutthroats, brigands, and bandits from Montenegro and Macedonia, the most dangerous parts of Yugoslavia."

The speaker described how Tito forced UNRRA officials to accept Russian supervision over all aspects of receiving, overseeing, and distributing the relief supplies, haggling with the Allies while 5 million Yugoslavs were in danger of starving.

He admitted, however, that "to my knowledge, not one man, woman or child did starve."

In conclusion, Christman ventured the prophecy that Tito would strike through Trieste and seize Italy, with the aid of Italian Communists who are now "stirring up trouble."

James H. Nottle introduced the speaker, and president Karl Schumacher presided over the business session.

Catholic Group to Attend Holy Name Society Rally

About 25 members of Pottstown Catholic churches will attend the open-air meeting of the Berks-Montgomery county Holy Name society in Reading City park Sunday night at 7 o'clock.

The Rev. John N. Wachter, Reading, spiritual head of the society, said that sizeable delegations from Stowe and Boyertown will also attend the meeting, which will be addressed by Dr. Anthony Ostheimer, a professor at Roman Catholic High school, Philadelphia, and editorial writer for the Catholic Standard and Times.

Preceding the meeting the band from Reading Catholic High school will play.

Norco Pupils' General Health Tops Average But Dental Conditions Below County Level

While half the pupils in North Coventry township schools are being examined this year by a doctor and a dentist, reports on the half examined last year show that township children are slightly above the Chester county average in general health, but the condition of their teeth is below the county average.

This was announced last night by Paul H. Grim, supervising principal of the township's schools, who attended a meeting of Chester school leaders in West Chester on Wednesday night to discuss the medical and dental checks.

Of 347 township children examined, 106 had remediable medical defects, well below the county mark of 3000 defects reported in 5000 students checked. But North Coventry pupils had an average of 3.1 permanent teeth that had decayed, while the county average was 2.6 decayed teeth.

Defects of neck glands, including tonsils, accounted for more than half of the medical defects reported in the township, and for one fourth in the county. The eyes of North Coventry pupils were far above the county average with only 10 cases of faulty vision reported. Heart ailments and poor nutrition were other leading causes of poor health.

Among other Chester county communities in this area, Spring City, Warwick and East Coventry all reported fewer medical and dental troubles than the county average.

Grim said the checks of the second half of township pupils will be continued throughout the school year. Mrs. A. L. Trego, school nurse, is now investigating to see whether parents of pupils with reported defects are taking remediable steps.

Clyde T. Saylor, county superintendent of schools, made one of the most valuable suggestions at the West Chester meeting, Grim added. It was that families unable to afford remediable dental or medical work should try to find a civic group in their area willing to finance such work.

was no verbal battling between prosecution and defense.

Although the Commonwealth called 13 witnesses in its case, Johnson's defense attorneys offered no testimony, and limited their case to an appeal to the jury.

In his address, defense lawyer Robert Grey Buchanan declared that most of the Commonwealth's evidence was based on testimony which Johnson himself had given earlier, and that Haney's death resulted from a broken neck caused by blows from Johnson's fists, "in a criminal frenzy," rather than by the act, which the Commonwealth claimed caused the fracture of the vertebrae.

Buchanan also pleaded that Johnson's was a momentary loss of control, and that he was not a violent man, but a quiet and well-behaved before his four-year hitch in the U. S. Marine Corps, but that he appeared melancholy and restless when he returned to civilian life.

So that he and his guide dog, Kitty, could go to jail, blind Silvio Esquivel threw rocks through store windows in Pottstown, Calif. Sentenced to 60 days, he told police he was unable to earn enough to support himself and the dog.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Miller entertained a number of friends at a doggie roast at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Shane and children, Mary Elizabeth and David, called on the latter's grandmother, Miranda S. Boyer.

The Yoder sisters entertained the following visitors: Mrs. Robert Scheetz, Raymond Scheetz, Mary Scheetz and Marie Yousse of New Jerusalem; and Mrs. Bertha Shollenberger, of New Berlinville.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clouser, of Mountville, called on their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Clouser Jr., and family.

Owen Henry left for Albright college, Reading, on Monday morning.

Following the transfer of the stock to the borough, a special meeting of the shareholders — the burgess and town council of the borough of Pottstown — was held.

The resignations of the board of directors of the Pottstown Gas and Water company were received and accepted and the names of seven new men were offered in nomination. They were J. Max Creswell, Gerald J. Daly, J. Wayne Knause, Ralph Weiss, Allen K. Davidson, Griffith and C. Roy Bush.

A plan to liquidate the company was formulated by the shareholders and directors were instructed to authorize the plan and to proceed with its execution.

The new board of directors met immediately after the shareholders and proceeded to elect its officers. Creswell was elected president of the board; Daly, vice president; Knause, secretary, and Weiss, treasurer, by unanimous vote.

It was resolved that the treasurer should pay all outstanding debts to clear the assets of the three companies and that the Pottstown Gas and Water company be liquidated. This was to be accomplished by the borough taking the property and assets of the company in return for the cancellation of the outstanding stock.

An out of existence certificate or an order terminating the company's corporate charter and corporate existence will be obtained when this procedure is completed.

ALIEN LANDS —

formed at San Francisco two years ago, it was founded on the idea that the United States and Russia as well as the other great powers had found such ground in their common desire for peace. Now almost every word of both governments is concerned not with peace but with their political conflict.

Vishinsky's speech fits into that pattern. His bitter personal attacks on American citizens was unprecedented in the United Nations out not in Soviet propaganda attacks on the United States.

He simply used the United Nations as a forum to pour forth into the ears of the world the strongest possible brew of all these charges. Then he proposed a resolution for action by the assembly. In this he asked the assembly to demand that the United States suppress its citizens from making "war-mongering" statements.

This seems to have the effect of asking the United Nations to intervene, contrary to its charter, in the domestic affairs of the United States, since American citizens are constitutionally guaranteed freedom of speech.

Vishinsky put up the proposition with three strikes already against him. The United States could not legally do what he asked. The United Nations apparently could not do it legally either. Anyway, there are many more nations in the assembly which, on a clear-cut issue, was issued with America than there are that vote with Russia.

What then did Vishinsky seek to accomplish with his speech? One possibility is that he was seeking to rally world opinion against present American foreign policy with the cry of "war." He directly attacked the concept of a "tough" policy toward Russia.

Another possibility is that he was creating a diversion to offset the effect of Secretary Marshall's proposal yesterday for creation of new UN peace machinery. He specifically charged that Marshall was trying to bypass the Security Council where Russia has its veto power and can keep it intact.

Vishinsky of course avoided saying directly that the American Government itself wants war or is seeking war with the Soviet Union. But he asked, on the face of it, for suppression of some persons who either publicly or privately have an effect on the formulation of American foreign policy. And beyond this he attacked every phase of policy, including the Truman doctrine and the Marshall plan, which Russia conceives to be against its interests.

are responsible for the lag in setting up atomic energy controls.

4. Soviet Russia will stand firm against any attempts to disrupt the unanimity of the great powers—the veto right.

Vishinsky's long pronouncement cracked solidly against every key facet of American foreign policy. It was the first break in a steady parade today of statements generally endorsing the Marshall plan for the U.N., with one or two slight reservations.

Answering charges from several delegations that Russia had paralyzed the Security Council by using 20 vetoes, he said the Soviet government's policy toward the U.N. was one of "strengthening" that organization—a "policy of a steady, consistent observance of the charter and of fulfillment of its principles."

BALLES CASE —

ing can be decided with absolute certainty."

He then sent the jurors back to reconsider the entire matter. "If you feel you have to compromise your conscience only then do I want you to feel you are deadlocked," he informed them.

The defense called one further witness yesterday, when the case opened. She was Martina Schwaeger, a record clerk at Abington hospital, who produced the records of an examination made of the little girl on the night of Balles' arrest.

Objections to the admission of these records as evidence were raised by the Commonwealth, however, and were sustained by Judge Harvey, before whom the case is being tried.

Philip J. Reilly, former district attorney of Chester county, who was appointed to assist Fred T. Cammus Jr., county prothonotary, in charge of the case, requested the jury on behalf of the defense.

Reilly questioned the credibility of some of the Commonwealth's witnesses, particularly the girl and Chief of Police Pletcher. He told the jury that in his opinion, the innocent could not have happened as they described it.

The evidence should raise some doubt in the minds of the jurors, he declared, and that doubt should be resolved in favor of the acquittal of Balles.

Henry S. Miller, assistant district attorney of Montgomery county, spoke for the Commonwealth, reviewing the case and pointing out those points of the testimony which prove Balles guilty.

He cited three points in particular, which he claimed would prove the guilt of Balles alone. The first, he said, was the fact that Balles parked on a lonely lane with the girl when he was supposed to be hurrying home to a sick child.

The second, he explained, was that Balles fled from the police on the pretext that he was trying to get to a telephone when he knew that phones were available at the hospital to which Pletcher was taking them.

Balles' signing of two statements which contained damaging admissions without reading them was the third point introduced by the Commonwealth. Miller pointed out that a man of his intelligence would be certain to read the statements before signing them, particularly under the circumstances in which Balles found himself.

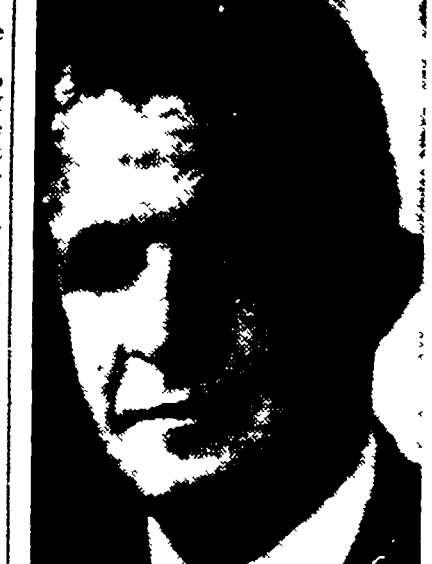

Following the summations of the case by the defense and the Commonwealth, Judge Harvey charged the jury. For an hour and 45 minutes he reviewed the case and instructed the jury in the law.

The case went to the jury at 1:45 o'clock, but the men were taken to lunch before beginning their deliberations.

Baptist Group Demands U. S. Break With Vatican

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18 (AP)—The American Baptist association today demanded severance of this country's diplomatic relations with the Vatican and earnestly requested President Harry S. Truman to recall his personal ambassador at once. This was embodied in a resolution adopted at the 140th annual meeting of the association here.

The group also condemned the use of public tax money to transport pupils to parochial schools and the insidious attacks which are constantly being made upon the integrity of our American system of public education.

en parade be held this year. If plans go through, the parade will be held, probably on High street, the night of Oct. 30.

The commission members voted to send Donnon to a congress of the National Recreation association to be held in New York City from Oct. 13-17.

It was announced that the four basketball leagues sponsored by the commission will be sponsored again this year. They are the Pre-Wees, boys under 12; Juniors, Junior High school age; Seniors, High school age, and the City League.

William Carden, extension director of the YMCA, will work with the commission in a program of activities at the Bethany center during the Fall and Winter, it was revealed.

The group decided to hold its meetings on the third Monday of the month, instead of on the fourth Friday.

Members of the commission present yesterday included the Rev. Dr. Gustave W. Weber, president; I. Leroy Johnson and Leonard A. Hiltner.

Italian Ambassador Says Nation Needs Billion-Dollar Assistance to Avert Crisis

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Italy has notified the United States it needs about $1,000,000,000 in outside assistance to meet the immediate economic crisis and survive through next year, American officials said today.

Italian Ambassador Alberto Tarchiani told Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett of these needs at a conference two days ago when he presented another, somewhat more optimistic, report on the economic situation in his country.

Government officials who disclosed this development said they are carefully studying the Italian figures, along with less complete information from the French, to determine what the United States can do to help these countries during the next three months.

Secretary of State Marshall and Lovett both have expressed belief that France, Italy and Britain may need emergency help before the end of the year to tide them over until the Marshall plan gets into operation. This plan calls for Europe to draw up a self-help program and for the United States to give any assistance deemed feasible.

Government officials who requested that their country be withheld said the Italian ambassador has broken down his country's requirements into two categories:

1. About $200,000,000 in "stop-gap" aid needed from the United States to pull Italy to the end of the year.
2. A little more than $800,000,000 wanted by the Italians for "essential purchases" from outside sources during 1948.

No Third Party

Representatives Hiram G. Andrews (above) said yesterday he had no intentions or thoughts of forming a third party in Pennsylvania. Andrews' statement came in reply to a remark by Philadelphia Democratic chairman, Michael Bradley.

Real Estate Official Sees Break by '48 In Housing Shortage

BEDFORD, Sept. 18 (AP)—An official of the National Real Estate board today pointed to what he called a sprinkling of "for rent" signs as evidence that the housing shortage will start to clear in 1948.

Herbert U. Nelson, executive vice president of the National Real Estate board, told convention sessions of the Pennsylvania Real Estate association Congress should keep its word and allow rent control laws to expire next February.

He predicted the real estate business would continue good for two more years and as evidence some break can be expected in housing shortages. "For rent signs are beginning to appear here and there already."

Earlier, the state's real estate brokers were urged to support a campaign to maintain and increase the variety and volume of Pennsylvania's industry.

Oris J. Matthews, State secretary of commerce, declared:

"In competition with 43 other states which are using every resource at their command, Pennsylvania is in the midst of a vitally important, post-war campaign to hold its present industries, expand plants wherever possible and interest new additional industries in locating within our huge industrial empire."

Matthews said budget limitations forced his department to call on volunteer workers and asked the real estate profession could play an important part.

100F Canton, Auxiliary To Participate in Rally

Canton Pottstown No. 6, 100F, and its auxiliary leave tomorrow morning in buses and private cars for Palmyra, where the fifth annual tri-county Odd Fellows rally will be held.

Oscarne Jeffries, of Pottstown, is brigadier general of the first brigade which includes 19 cantons and 12 auxiliaries in Eastern Pennsylvania.

The canton team is composed of 30 men in command of Captain Charles Kramer while the auxiliary of 25 women is headed by Lady Margaret Moyer.

The canton team will enter the competitive drills following a street parade. The auxiliary also will participate in the parade and give exhibition drills later.

Prizes will be awarded by Jeffries at exercises to be held in the evening. An address will be made by Judge Harold Paul, of Schuylkill county.

Model Plane Meet Is Termed Success

Reports on the big model airplane meet Sunday at Daniel Boone home-stead indicated that entrants, spectators and the meet's sponsors, the Pottstown Optimist club, were all well pleased with the affair. This announcement was made last night by Edward Jameson, president of the Pottstown Model Airplane club, following its meeting last night.

Jameson said entrants throughout the area have congratulated the club on the way the meet was handled, and that the Optimists have expressed a desire to sponsor another meet next year.

The local modelers, who are too busy running the meet Sunday for much flying, were on hand early at the home-stead last night. One modeler disaster occurred when the veteran plane of Paul Jones, Sanatoga, went into a tight spin and crashed to the earth with the motor running. The gas-powered ship with a seven-foot wingspread was almost completely wrecked.

Teachers' Association Hears Convention Report

The Pottstown Teachers' association held its first meeting of the season in the high school yesterday afternoon, with 150 instructors present.

J. Robert Von Drach, who represented the local teachers at the July annual convention of the National Education association in Cincinnati, gave his report of the convention.

The group planned for the year's program. They hope to invite guest speakers to the meetings, and to organize varied social functions.

Fred J. Dilling, president of the association, presided at yesterday's business session. The 1947-48 budget, presented by the chairman of the budget committee, Miss A. Edna Hut, was adopted.

BRITISH CHECK REVOLUTION BID IN SOLOMONS

Sub Fires Starshells
To Scare Islanders;
Ringleaders Captured

DARWIN, Australia, Sept. 18 (AP)—Brilliant starshells fired in the air from a British submarine terrorized rebellious Solomon islanders and helped to nip a revolution planned to engulf the entire island group, British naval officers said today.

Officers of the submarine HMS Amphion, which arrived here from the Solomon Islands, said the uprising had been planned carefully for this month by island nationalists. The Solomon group is a British protectorate.

(The British colonial office said in London that the unrest arose from food shortages, aggravated by exhaustion of war-time rations from U. S. Army dumps. A spokesman said it had been anticipated that the impact of modern ideas introduced by American armed forces during the war "would have an unrelenting effect on the primitive islanders.")

The officers said ringleaders were captured and imprisoned without bloodshed. British warships now are patrolling the islands.

This was the officers' story: Aware of the existence of the planned revolt, authorities ordered the Amphion to show the flag. The submarine sailed into the harbor of small Santa Ana island in the southern Solomons. Officers noted a strange flag on the beach, later identified by natives as a "flag of freedom," bearing a symbol meaning "Marxian law."

When a party landed from the submarine a large number of natives were massed near the flag. The Amphion fired starshells from her six-inch guns.

When the brilliant lights from the shells flared in the sky the natives fled in terror to the other side of the island and then moved back among their own tribes.

Henry Kruper, a German plantation owner who has been living on the islands for 36 years, said he believed the uprising was the result of Communist propaganda, circulated after the U. S. occupation ended. He said the natives had been told that a "great day" was coming.

Kruper said the natives were told an American destroyer's arrival would be the signal for them to begin operations. He said the natives also were told that an American cargo ship was bringing for each of them a mosquito proof house and a refrigerator. The natives postponed the uprising Sept. 1, still waiting for the ships. When the Amphion and the British destroyer Conquest arrived, they believed the signal had been given.

The Conquest now is patrolling the island.

Legislator Believes U. S., Soviet Near Eventual Climax

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Rep. Eaton (R-N.J.), chairman of the House foreign affairs committee, said tonight "We must have a showdown with Russia."

Eaton spoke in a radio address shortly after Anatol Y. Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, denounced him as a "war monger" in a speech before the United Nations assembly. Eaton, however, apparently was unaware of this attack at the time he spoke.

The congressman described the Russian government as "the militant instrument of an ideology whose avowed objective is world conquest by means of world revolution, and whose motives and methods are as immoral or unmoral as those of a hungry tiger."

Cops Battle Pickets in Detroit Garage Strike

With riot sticks ready to swing, Detroit police push back striking garage workers at the Jerry McCarthy garage. The trouble broke out when some mechanics tried to get through the picket line in a back-to-work movement and a police riot squad was called to clear a path for them. A union spokesman was reported to have defied officials. The strike, in progress since Aug. 19, has closed some 60 places.

Morgenthau Labels Wallace New Deal's Biggest Spender

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Henry Morgenthau Jr., former secretary of the Treasury, today described Henry A. Wallace as the New Deal's most gigantic spender of Federal funds and said his theory of spending to curtail farm production was "non-sense."

He said he once protested that Wallace was "getting away with murder."

Morgenthau wrote this in the first of six articles in Collier's describing his nearly 12 years in the Treasury, particularly his unsuccessful efforts to balance the budget.

The former secretary said Wallace's Agriculture department and related activities were the costliest arm of government, even counting Harry L. Hopkins' relief outfit and Harold L. Ickes' public works outlays.

"Wallace's whole theory of spending in order to reduce agricultural production always seemed nonsense to me," he asserted.

Along with the article was published a statement by Morgenthau denying that his 900 volumes of diaries contain any official Government documents. He said he has only copies of documents, and personal notes and memoranda.

Morgenthau resigned from the Treasury in July, 1945. Early this year there was a hubbub over disclosure that Morgenthau had such a voluninous diary, some contending he had illegally removed documents from his department. Morgenthau denied this at the time, and finally consented to let Secretary Snyder go through his files and take any papers needed for the Government's permanent record.

Morgenthau in today's article said of all the Federal "spenders" Hopkins was "the best from my point of view" because he got money into circulation quickly, which was the economic objective of the pump-priming policy, and he gave destitute people work, which was the social objective.

Ickes, he added, was "so anxious to keep graft and politics out of the public works program that he practically spent money through a medicine dropper. Ickes' slowness in making decisions was sometimes a real handicap."

Writing about a Treasury staff meeting on April 15, 1937, when he said the Administration was trying hard to strike a budget balance for 1938, he reported that Wallace expected to spend $1,176,000,000 in 1938 and $1,087,000,000 in 1939 after having "given away" $2,594,000,000 on farm programs from 1934 through 1937.

Daniel Bell, then director of the budget wanted to know if that included good roads and Morgenthau replied:

"No. Agricultural adjustment administration, resettlement, Federal surplus, Federal emergency relief—no, this is straight agriculture. Their overhead is $130,000,000. It costs $130,000,000 for nine months to give away $516,000,000."

Railroad Workers Seek Wage Boost

CLEVELAND, Sept. 18 (AP)—Five operating brotherhoods today decided to ask the nation's railroads for a wage increase of 30 percent, effective Nov. 1, for more than 350,000 rail employees.

Executives of the trainmen, engineers, firemen, conductors and switchmen, following a meeting of the five brotherhoods' wage committees announced that the demand would be served on the carriers Sept. 30.

The committees "acted unanimously," said an announcement, "to serve demands on the railroads as of Sept. 30 for a wage increase effective Nov. 1, 1947, of 30 percent on all existing wage rates, with a minimum money increase of $300 on the basic day, the same percentage of increase to be applied to all arbitrators, differentials, miscellaneous rates, special allowances and to daily and monthly guarantees."

A brotherhood spokesman said the range of present daily basic wages was not available, but that as some of them were under $10, a minimum of $3 was set as the demand for this bracket.

CLARK ASSUMES PROSECUTION OF 'GREY MARKET'

Attorney General Warns Industry Leaders Who Plan Price Conspiracies

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 18 (AP)—Vigorous prosecution of price conspiracies, including action against the "grey market," was promised tonight by Attorney General Tom C. Clark in an address before the annual dinner meeting of the State bar of Michigan.

He said he viewed "the threat of abuses of industrial power" as greater today than at any other time in the nation's history.

Defining the "grey market" as the selling of scarce goods to regular customers in excess allotments for a bonus payment, Clark said:

"Under existing anti-trust legislation, it is impossible to proceed against individual grey market dealers, but if we find sales managers of two or more concerns in the same industry engaging in the practice, I believe we would be justified in taking them to court."

Clark also declared that while his department would not engage in "witch-hunts," the fight against abusive elements would continue, and that every means available within the existing framework of the law would be used to protect civil rights.

He said the Federal Government had been unable to obtain convictions in Georgia and North Carolina lynchings which, he said, "give rise to the need for a new interpretation by the Supreme court of governmental authority."

Taft Speaks Today On High Living Costs

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) returned to California today ready for one of the key speeches of his Western tour—an all-out attack on the Democratic Administration's price policies.

Taft said he would analyze the reasons for the high cost of living in the United States, and he is expected to place the blame for it on President Truman.

The senator has been traveling through the West, examining his chances as a presidential candidate in 1948.

Briton Claims Vishinsky Resorted To Same Red 'Line' in U. N. Talk

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—Diplomats of the United Nations reacted with mixed feelings tonight to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's blistering attack centering mainly on the United States.

Few described it as "brilliant." More generally agreed that it was "sharp and hard." Some looked upon it as sheer "propaganda."

But all drew attention to Vishinsky's assurance to the U. N. assembly that Russia has no intention of initiating a war.

Of the four other members of the big five, only Britain and France would comment. The heads of the Chinese and U. S. delegations declined to comment.

Hector McNeill, British minister of state and chief delegate, expressed the bitter view:

"It was an interesting speech, but most of the quotes and charges were old and familiar," McNeill said. "The Russian resolution calling for the U. N. to halt world propaganda, particularly in the United States, was the prototype of what can be had at any Communist party meeting."

The first reaction from a congressman came from Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), who listened to Vishinsky from the gallery and

Religious Classes For Students Listed To Open Next Month

The Spring City committee for community religious education, which started the Weekday Schools of Religious Education the past year, has completed plans to conduct the school again this year for pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the public school system, beginning the first week in October.

These schools, through which the children will receive one hour of religious education each week on released time, will be held in cooperation with local school authorities.

The system of weekday religious education as designed by the local committee and school authorities, conforms with the State legislature, permitting school children, with proper authorization from their parents, to attend their respective churches for religious education for a period not exceeding one hour each week during the school term. The pupils who request this religious training will be dismissed from school one hour on Thursday afternoon of each week, and will report to the school of their denomination.

Weekday schools will be conducted in the following Spring City churches: Methodist church, Lutheran church, Mennonite Brethren in Christ church and the Evangelical and Reformed church.

Application blanks for this religious training, which must be signed by the pupil's parents, will be distributed to the school children of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades in the very near future.

The Rev. Joseph L. Schantz, pastor of Spring City Lutheran church, was elected chairman of the committee at a recent meeting. Mrs. Lloyd Coulston will continue her duties as secretary. The following representatives attended the meeting.

Methodist church, the Rev. Charles Salkeld, Mrs. Edward Ottlinger, Miss Bertha Brower and Mrs. Robert Brower; Lutheran church, the Rev. Schantz, Mrs. Luther Godshall, Mrs. Lloyd Coulston; Mennonite Brethren in Christ, the Rev. Paul Baer; Evangelical and Reformed church, the Rev. Garnet O. Adams, Harry Marshall and Miss Evelyn Walker; from the schools, Harry Gerlach, supervising principal, and Miss Ruth Dubson, grade school principal.

Spring City Veteran Has Diner Shipped

A diner came to town yesterday morning. The old Limerick diner, which has been replaced by a new one, was hauled to Main and Bridge streets, Spring City, where it is being set up by the new owner, Clayton Conklin, who purchased it from the former owner.

Less than one hour was required to load the diner on a big flat and transport it to the new location. The car was moved via the Township line road to Royersford, thence on the Lewis road to Main street, and straight down Main street to Spring City. Chief of Police Bryson Turner escorted the procession. Conklin, a war veteran, had secured permission from Spring City borough council to erect the diner on a lot he owns at the intersection of Main and Bridge streets.

Boroughs to Discuss Merger of Red Cross

The advisability of merging Royersford and Spring City districts of the American Red Cross will be discussed at a meeting soon.

A meeting of the Spring City district, northern branch of the southeastern Pennsylvania chapter will be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock in Spring City elementary school building. Representatives of the branch and chapter will be present to join in a discussion on a possible merger of the two borough units. All persons interested have been invited to attend.

Hunting, Fishing Group Begins Season's Work

Royersford Hunting and Fishing association will begin another season's activities with a meeting in Friendship firehall Monday night at 8 o'clock. Irvin Clemens, president, has urged all members to attend the first meeting, and announced motion pictures will be shown after the session. The movies will include some local shots of releasing game.

Safety Pin Removed From Girl's Throat

Sharon Lee Hallman, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Hallman Jr., 536 Main street, Royersford, was brought home from the Graduate hospital, Philadelphia, early last night, apparently none the worse, after having swallowed a safety pin and having had it removed.

The child, aged ten months, awoke crying early Tuesday morning. Her parents discovered a small safety pin missing from the back of her pajamas. After the pin could not be located, the child was removed to Phoenixville hospital. An X-ray examination showed the pin lodged in her esophagus.

She was then taken to the Graduate hospital, where the pin was removed with a bronchoscope. Her father is music supervisor of Spring City high school and director of the school band.

Army and Air Force Agree on Plan to Divide Personnel

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Army and the newly-independent United States Air Force are dividing up personnel and functions through a series of formal agreements drawn up by the two departments.

Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall told a news conference today that the basic policy compact has been sent to the Secretary of Defense James Forrestal for his final approval.

Royall emphasized that the agreements are intended primarily as an interim measure to get this phase of the unification program going during an organization period which may cover as much as two years. The agreements are subject to amendment if circumstances dictate, said Royall.

The meeting with newsmen was attended by Secretary of Air W. Stuart Symington, who was sworn into office a few hours earlier at a ceremony which also inducted the new secretary of the Navy, John L. Sullivan.

In general the allocation of personnel follows a troop strength plan made even before enactment of the unification law, granting autonomy to the Air Force. That plan provides for a force of about 400,000 men and officers for the Air Force and an Army of 600,000. The agreement on allocation of officers provides 30,000 Regular Army officers for the Army and 20,000 for the Air Force.

A study of the text of the agreements indicated a definite decision has been made to establish a separate academy for training Air Force officers but that the time of doing so has not been decided upon. Until that is done, the Air Force will receive a proportion of each graduating class from West Point.

Education Association President Says Public to Ask Classroom Improvement

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Education association said today the public, due to increased costs of schools, "may ask for longer hours and a longer work year, and certainly they will ask for diligent and improvement performance in the classroom."

"I think the time is here," declared association President Fred W. Hoeler of Allentown, "when we, in the teaching profession, must realize that as we go to the public for greater support for education we must expect that the public is going to ask for an enriched program."

Hoeler, who is Allentown superintendent of schools, made his comment in the association's school journal in reviewing new education legislation, including teacher pay boosts, by the 1947 General Assembly.

Declaring that while new mandated pay scales costing the State $18,000,000 more in the next two years "falls short of our goal," it is still "a long step forward," Hoeler continued: "Act 515 (new school code) does form a solid foundation upon which to build; but, if we are to make progress and build upon this foundation, we must have some kind of scientific tax program in the future."

"With an adequate tax program, salary schedules and equalization of educational opportunities can be enriched and expanded."

The education association, at the start of the 1947 session, asked enactment of a $2400 a year staff-wide minimum for teachers and increased state grants which it estimated would cost $88,000,000 in the next two years.

The law as finally approved set a starting scale of $2000 for college-trained teachers and a staff-wide minimum of $1950 for instructors outside Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

State Assistance Group To Air Living Costs

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18 (AP)—The question of the rising cost of living and its effect on Pennsylvania's relief recipients will come before the State board of assistance here Oct. 14 but officials withheld comment today on any possibility of boosts in grants.

The department of public assistance recently announced living costs of recipients had jumped 20 per cent while the level of grants had gone up only six per cent.

BEATRICE FAIRFAX'S Advice to the Lovelorn

★ ★ ★ If You're Lonely, Analyze Your Assets

I AM about the loneliest person in the world," writes a 27-year-old wife. "I am married to a good fellow and we have one child, and yet I am lonely."

"I want to make friends and yet I fear people. I feel as though they don't want me and I lack confidence in myself. I question myself of everything I do, asking myself if what I do is correct or not."

"I have heard of two types of people, introverts and extroverts, the former being people who are shy, timid and bewildered. If I belong in this class, please help me to change to an extrovert. I am so lonely."

"I want to do right by my husband and little boy, and have and make friends and companions. I don't want our little boy to grow up and be lonely like his mother is right now."

This letter sums up in a very moving way a type of situation about which many people write me. There are, it seems, a very great many who feel that they are the loneliest people in the world.

It is a very dreadful thing to experience this type of loneliness. But it would be still more dreadful if nothing could be done about it. And something almost always can.

It simply requires an intelligent effort on the part of the person concerned to find out what qualities, skills, or interests he has which he can use as points of contact with others.

Practically everybody has some such qualities to start with. If not, then they can be acquired. There is nothing in the world less hopeless than loneliness.

And so I would suggest to the young woman who wrote the letter just quoted, and to others who find themselves in a similar situation, that she begin solving her problem by making an honest analysis of her assets, using the term to cover these "qualities, skills or interests" of which have just been speaking.

What are your interests, "Lonely Girl?" What can you do well? What sort of disposition have you? One that makes you want to be of service to someone, or one that makes you unwilling to exert yourself in behalf of others? One of the very best ways to get over being lonely is to take part in some type of work that is helpful to other people. A woman can find absorbing interest in becoming an aide in a hospital. Veterans' hospitals are particularly in need of women who can help some of these men while away weary hours of playing games with them, reading to them, helping them engage in some handicraft or other activity. Perhaps this girl has some talent that she can put to good use in such a way.

Once she has listed her own interests, then I suggest that she look about her for some organization to join whose program touches that interest. Does she like to cook? Let her join a cooking class at the Y.W.C.A. Would she like to learn to make her own clothes or hats? To weave, to make jewelry, or to become a good photographer? Somewhere near her she can find a class in any one of them to join.

Does she take an interest in the Parent-Teachers Association at the school her child attends? She can meet many other young mothers that way.

These are only a few things she might consider. There are numerous other avenues open to her through which she can find congenial companionship.

Above all things, however, she should stop the continual self-criticism which makes her question herself on whether or not she has behaved correctly in any given situation. Let her simply behave naturally on all occasions and she will probably rarely go wrong. The clue to all "correct" behavior is to act with consideration of the other person always remembering that those one meets may be just as lonely and just as unsure of themselves.

Accidents rank fourth as a cause of death in the United States.

Gilmer at The Hill School?

Dick Thompson soars high into the air to spot a receiver in yesterday's second pre-season practice at The Hill school as three linemen give the Blue and Grey co-captain some good protection. Thompson is shown losing the pigskin in the same style used by Alabama's famous passer, Harry Gilmer. Giving the big fullback the protection he needs is (left to right) Bob O'Connell, Gene Ackerman and Fred Papp. Ackerman is only one of the several Pottstown boys starting practice under the coaching of Jack Riley at The Hill.

NEW YORK GIANTS WIN 9-5 CONTEST FROM CHICAGO FOE

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (P)—The New York Giants hiked their home run total for the season to 211 today in their 9 to 5 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

Bobby Thompson's four-base smash in the third with a mate on base was good for two runs, after the Giants could score but a single tally in the first on four singles.

The Cubs got all their runs in a fat third inning that included doubles by Phil Cavarretta and Johnny Miller, starting pitcher.

Shamrocks Ready For First Contest

After two full months of training, the 7th Ward Shamrocks get their first real taste of football Sunday afternoon when they meet the Maria Assunta A. C. in the season's opener on The Hill far fields.

Head Coach Ed Drabinsky and his assistants, Pete Neiffer and John Kinderman, have put a lot of their time getting the Shamrocks into good enough shape to start the season Sunday. The opener is scheduled to get underway at 2:30 o'clock.

The Maria Assunta outfit has also been practicing hard for this contest under the watchful eye of Coach Philip Derecola and seem to be ready for the fray.

Some 28 gridders make up the Shamrocks, and team officials announced there are openings for about six more players on the squad.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 18 (P)—The Cincinnati Reds today snailily caught up with Emil (Dutch) Leonard, Philadelphia pitcher who had beaten them three times previously this season, knocked him from the box in the third inning and went on to win 9 to 4.

It was the final game of the year between the teams and gave the Reds a 13-9 edge. Cincinnati pounded out 15 hits.

Eddie Erazt went the route for the Reds, allowing 12 hits, to win his fourth game as against nine losses. It was the first time he had gone the route to win since May 15.

Cincinnati hit Philadelphia pitchers for 29 hits and 21 runs in the games played yesterday and today.

Today's paid attendance was only 1140.

1500 FANS SEE DIECASTERS WIN 3D GAME BY 4-1

Three Runs in First Frame Clinch Victory; Andrews Hurls Three-Hitter

Manager Jim Egolf called on Dick Andrews again last night and the tall righthander succeeded in pitching Doehler's to the 1947 City-Industrial League championship by stopping Flagg's with only three hits. The score was 4-1.

Manager Al Ramsdell of Flagg's gave the 1500 fans present at Franklin field quite a surprise when he sent Lefty Johnson to the mound against the Diecasters. The southpaw had a shaky first inning, when Doehler's got to him for three runs, but settled down and pitched brilliant ball the rest of the way. If he had gotten off to a good start, the outcome of the fourth game of the best of five series might have been different.

Last night's victory was the third for the Diecasters in the series and ended an uphill battle for the title. A few months ago the Diecasters were in a tie for fifth place and didn't look like a championship club. Since that time they have come a long way.

Flagg's, after losing the first two games, came to life in the third game and turned back Doehler's and Andrews in a 3-2 contest. Wednesday night Flagg's made a bid to tie the series at two games apiece, but Bobby Shaver's homer tied the game and forced a replay of the game.

The Diecasters got to Wirow in the first inning for three runs that meant the ball game. After Bill Egolf grounded out, Gerry Egolf drew a base on balls. Del Egolf singled past third base, and when Charlie Hertzog let the ball get past him in left field, Gerry came all the way home to score and Del went to second. Paul Pieffer worked Wirow for a free ticket and Shaver drove Del Egolf home with the second run. Pieffer, however, was caught trying to take third base and Shaver was the only base runner left. Jim Egolf then followed with a double to right center field which accounted for the third run.

Andrews, with a comfortable 3-0 lead, coasted along for four innings without allowing a base hit. Lou Millard's infield safety was the first hit Flagg's were able to get.

In the sixth frame, Ed Kovach's triple down the left field foul line and Andrews' infield hit gave Doehler's a 4-0 lead, but Flagg's put two singles and a walk together in the same inning to break Andrews' shutout.

Wirow singled to right center and Hadley fanned. Hertzog walked and Merrill Hook blasted a one-bagger to right center and Wirow scored. Hertzog was caught between second and third for the second out, and

The Villanova football team will have strong musical support this fall. The Main Line band will be added in new uniforms.

Harry Penrose fanned, ending the inning.

YANKEES DEFEAT BOSOX EXPLODE PALE HOSE, 3-1

Rookie Frank Shea Back After Arm Injury, Gains 13th Win of Season

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (P)—Frank Shea, New York Yankee rookie pitcher out with an army injury since July 5, announced his complete recovery and a claim for a World Series mound assignment today by stopping the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 1.

It was the second consecutive day in which an erstwhile Yankee pitching casualty showed a return to form. Alie Reynolds blanked the White Sox yesterday, 5 to 0.

Shea, who now has won 13 and lost five, had a two-hit shutout until the eighth inning when Rudy York belted one of his pitches into the right field stands. Thurman Tucker followed York's smash with a harmless single.

The youngster fanned eight but walked five. Ed Lopat, White Sox pitcher, also walked five and three of the passes came in the sixth and were combined with George Stinewiss' single for the first Yankee score.

Pirates Down Dodgers, 8-7; Kiner Clouts 50th Homer

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18 (P)—Pittsburgh's Wally Westlake drilled a home run into the Greenberg Gardens in the last of the ninth and the Pirates won an 8 to 7 decision over Brooklyn that closed out any chance the Dodgers had of clinching the National League flag today.

Ralph Kiner, Pirate outfielder, broke his tie with Johnny Mize of the New York Giants by his 50th shot into the Gardens in the second. Mize was kept out of the homer column at Chicago today.

El Chico AC Opens Grid Season Sunday

The El Chico A.C. football team ends four weeks of hard training tonight with a light workout in preparation for the season's opener with St. Anthony's Catholic club of Philadelphia Sunday afternoon.

Coach Johnny Baker has been working hard with his gridders and stated last night that the El Chico lads are ready for their first encounter. The team consists mostly of former high school players from Pottstown, North Coventry and West Pottsgrove.

The El Chico eleven will be working from the single-wing and "T" formations on the gridiron this fall with Pete Karpis, former Pottstown High school quarterback, doing the signal calling.

All home games of the team will be played on the West Pottsgrove High school field starting at 2:30 o'clock. Most of the home games will be played on Sundays.

The team is well fortified in every position with some of the replacements weighing more than the starters. The starting line for Sunday's game averages around 190 pounds while the backfield averages 165 pounds.

Signed Confession Entered by State in Mercy Slaying Trial

READING, Sept. 18 (AP) — A signed confession by Ella M. Haug in which she admitted that she gave her incurably ill mother, Katie Lashaw, 71, an overdose of sleeping tablets the past July 21 to "end her suffering," was offered in evidence today by the State as it sought a first degree murder verdict against the defendant.

C. Wilson Austin, assistant district attorney, who is presenting the Commonwealth's case in Judge L. Robert Myers' court, also offered in evidence, over objections of defense counsel, a note it said Miss Haug pinned to the pillow of her mother's bed just before Miss Haug tried to kill herself by taking 12 barbiturate tablets.

The note, addressed to a visiting nurse, who made regular visits to the Haug home to care for Mrs. Lashaw, said she could "no longer could endure her mother's crying and misery. She suffered far too long, already and was on the verge of collapse, then what would become of my mother." She asked forgiveness for the shock the tragedies may have caused her and was "thankful that I had the strength and courage to end it."

The State closed its case in mid-afternoon, after hearing testimony from Dr. Hunter S. Cook, Community General hospital pathologist who told of making tests of the stomach and bladder contents for the presence of barbiturate. Emmanuel Weiss, defense attorney, in opening his case said he would call Miss Haug to the stand tomorrow morning to tell her own story of what happened.

Weiss, who during questioning of Dr. Cook, tried to point out that the victim was taking barbiturate during her prolonged illness, indicated he would attempt to show that the barbiturates did not cause Mrs. Lashaw's death.

An ordinary thimble would hold 20,000 gold screws of the size used in the balance wheel of a watch.

Police Department Log Reflects Variety Of Duties Patrolmen Must Perform

The police log being kept at borough hall through the action of Burgess William A. Griffith and Chief of Police James A. Laughhead is a barometer of the borough's everyday life.

An average of 25 to 35 messages are received by the police every day and these are of a diversified nature.

Many of the messages concern noise made by children at play. In most cases, when police arrive they find a few youngsters playing ball or jacks.

Yesterday afternoon a call was received concerning a "man in a red truck selling onions without a pedler's license." Motor Patrolman Thomas A. Lawler went out on this job. The onion vendor took out a license at borough hall.

Philadelphia police called later in the afternoon and wanted to contact an officer named "Pete Seeger." There is no one by that name on the local police force.

At 12:45 p. m., a call was received concerning a drunken man at High and Hanover streets. He was taken to his home by police.

Another call was received concerning a Price street man being bitten by a dog. The owner of the dog was sought by police.

Cars parked in alleys thereby blocking other cars are a main source of police calls, according to the log.

At night time, loud playing radios also result in complaints.

During the daytime, the calls are noted on the log by Chief Laughhead and the police clerk, Miss Bette Reber. At night, Police Desk Sgt. Anthony Herman or his regular assistant, Patrolman Irvin Frederick, take the calls.

Telephone Directories To Be Distributed Here
Delivery of new telephone directories will start here next Wednesday and will be completed by the first of October, it was announced today by Willard L. Kline, local manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Approximately 11,450 copies of the new books will be distributed in this vicinity, Kline said. This is an increase of 1356 copies over last year's distribution. Old directories will be collected for paper salvage during the distribution.

The new grey-covered books contain approximately 35,000 alphabetical listings, an increase of about 5000.

Man Arrested by Police In Taproom Disturbance

Charged with being drunk and disorderly at the Wallace cafe on South Hanover street, Harold Smith, of Pottstown RD 2, was arrested at 5:05 o'clock last night by Motor Patrolman Thomas A. Lawler and Patrolman Paul Bridgman.

A warrant for his arrest has been sworn out before Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus, of the Seventh ward, by James Machan, proprietor of the tap room.

are coming!...

...and they troop into autumn with a retinue of admirers at their side. Well, who wouldn't love side in the bright, sparkling gay costume? Corduroy meets plaid, and what a happy combination. Tailored in the spirit of '47, the corduroy cutaway jacket curves to a soft nipping back—the slim center-pleated plaid skirt completes the picture. Red or Green corduroy jackets in combination with Plaid skirt. Sizes 7 to 15.
